INTRODUCTION

Spain is a world leader in Meetings and Events Tourism (MICE), a safe option if you're looking for the best outcome. What makes a difference is the variety and quantity of resources, the extensive experience of our professionals, top-quality accommodation and extraordinary infrastructures. It is also a fascinating country and one of the most important tourist destinations in the world.

The data collected annually by the ICCA (International Congress & Conventions Association) report, where Spain ranks among the top positions, confirms that our country is one of the best destinations for hosting meetings, conferences and large professional events. Spain is the only country with two cities, Barcelona and Madrid, included in the top 10 of this report.

You can take advantage of the facilities provided by the 65 destinations that are linked to the Spain Convention Bureau (SCB), which gives free assessment on available infrastructures and resources to companies organising events, making it easier for them to contact each of the local conference offices belonging to the SCB.

There are also a number of associations which can be contacted with a view to finding the ideal local partner to help you organise your events. Essential guidance for you to find the added value you are looking for. SpainDMCs is an official association of prestigious incoming travel agencies specialising in meetings and incentive programmes.

Over 44 airports, an extensive high-speed railway network (AVE) and important cruise-ship ports make both internal and international travel easy.

▲ OVIEDO CONFERENCE CENTRE

If you want to hold a conference or convention, OPC España (Spanish Association of Professional Conference Organisers) will help you find your ideal space in any destination in the country. The main international associations for the sector, such as ICCA, SITE and MPI, also have a specific chapter made up of Spanish professionals.

The MICE Forum also brings together event organisers, suppliers of materials and personnel and many other associations in the sector.

According to the Travel & Tourism Competitiveness Report 2024 compiled by the World Economic Forum, Spain is the second most competitive country in the world in tourism, worthy of note for its excellent infrastructure, immense cultural and natural heritage, ICT readiness and security.

You have plenty to choose from. In Spain, there is a broad selection of destinations, with versatile, multipurpose venues for meetings, all equipped with the latest technology. You have a choice of more than 50 conference halls and convention centres, located in iconic and avant-garde buildings, as well as auditoriums, trade fair centres and alternative venues like museums, castles and theatres. In this regard, you can obtain further information from the APCE (Spanish Association of Conference Centres) and the AFE (Spanish Trade Fairs Association).

Our excellent professionals in the MICE sector ensure a high level of satisfaction among attendees: from the secretarial function for a conference to the provision of essential complementary services (audiovisual, catering, assembly, transport, etc.).

Without a doubt, here you will find the professionalism, atmosphere and the right services to create a spectacular, highly productive event that is increasingly committed to social and environmental sustainability. Some of the most significant events and conferences in a number of sectors are held in Spain, and the figures speak for themselves: every year more than 20,000 events and conferences of all types are held in Spain.

The wide-ranging and renovated hotel infrastructure in Spain is internationally renowned. Choose what best suits your needs, with a wide range of 4 and 5 star hotel accommodation options, including almost one hundred Paradores de Turismo, strategically located in both restored historic buildings and modern constructions.

There are great opportunities for combining work and leisure or organising incentive travel. Bleisure travel in Spain is a growing trend. There are endless opportunities here in this friendly, hospitable country, so those attending your event can enjoy a perfect blend of work and free time. Spain has also become a favourite destination for remote work and more and more companies are placing their workers here, where the environment and quality of life favour productivity and well-being.

Our main cities all have extraordinary museums, unique cultural agendas and guaranteed night-time entertainment. Our beaches and the number of hours of sunshine per year (an average of 2,500 across the country) guarantee a pleasant and festive stay. All this, together with the natural wealth of 16 national parks, world-famous gastronomy and the chance to enjoy open-air sports make Spain an unbeatable destination for incentive travel.

Choose Spain for your meetings, conferences and incentive travel and you can't go wrong. You'll find so many advantages and facilities, professionals with proven experience and an ideal environment, so the participants are bound to be completely satisfied. No matter how hard you try, you won't find another destination that matches what Spain has to offer.

MAIN CITIES FOR BUSINESS TRAVEL

▲ ROYAL PALACE

MADRID

Open and cosmopolitan, the capital of Spain offers endless possibilities and has been recognised by the World Travel Awards for several years running for being the best destination in the world for meetings and conferences.

The city's suitability for MICE tourism is best demonstrated by its history of hosting major events like ESMO (European Society for Medical Oncology Conference), WOBI (World Business Forum), WATMC (World Air Traffic Management Congress) and FITUR (International Tourism Fair). In fact, the city is always ranked among the top 10 by the International Congress & Convention Association.

The city is the transport hub that connects with the rest of the country, whether by plane, high-speed train or by road, and it has an airport with flights to some 200 destinations worldwide.

Here you'll have the support and assessment offered by the Madrid Convention Bureau (MCB), a member of the Best Cities Global Alliance, which promotes excellence in the organisation of major conferences, as well as numerous agencies and associations which will help you organise your event.

In addition to its great infrastructure for organising conferences, conventions and incentive trips, it also has an attractive artistic and cultural heritage. In fact, Madrid offers an incomparable route: The Landscape of Light, declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site and made up of the Paseo del Prado – where the Prado Museum, one of the largest art museums in the world, is located – the Retiro park and the Jerónimos neighbourhood. The famous Gran Vía, which has become Madrid's Broadway, and historic neighbourhoods like Madrid de los Austrias are just some of the endless attractions of this city, which is also one of the cities in the world to have the most trees.

By day, the city offers hundreds of shops that cater to all trends: From the most exclusive shops on the "Golden Mile" and Las Salesas, to more avant-garde businesses in the Chueca-Malasaña-Fuencarral district. At night, Madrid never sleeps. Nightlife is supported by a circuit of theatres, live music venues and a wide range of clubs, bars and nightclubs.

Madrid has more than 27 Michelin-starred restaurants and 39 five-star hotels, making it the fifth city in the world with the greatest presence of international chains.

All of this has contributed to Madrid standing out for the high level of satisfaction expressed by both attendees and conference organisers.

ACCOMMODATION

ACCOMMODATION

Madrid is the leader in hotel rooms offered in Spain. It also has a comprehensive range of top-quality establishments, with numerous four- and five-star hotels available. You just need to select the option which is best suited to the requirements of those attending your conference or meeting.

There are a number of top-flight hotels specialising in conventions and conferences. In the centre of the capital you will find the impressive Puerta América, designed jointly by 19 of the best architectural studios in the world.

In the Paseo de la Castellana, the city's business hub, there is the Rosewood Villa Magna, the Intercontinental Madrid and the Eurostars Madrid Tower, all with high capacity and providing comprehensive services.

Of the 4-star hotels, special mention should go to the Meliá Castilla, with 7,000 square metres of space for meetings and a 500-seat auditorium, and the NH Collection Madrid Eurobuilding. Due to its proximity to major convention centres, hotels such as the Novotel Campo de las Naciones and the Pullman Madrid Airport & Feria also stand out.

SPAIN, THE IDEAL VENUE FOR YOUR MEETINGS

BARCELONA

Whether for large conferences or smaller meetings, Barcelona is one of the preferred destinations for MICE industry professionals due to the many options of facilities and activities it offers. You will also find it to be a city where sustainable tourism is a strategic element in event management. All of this makes it a safe bet, with a spectacular cultural heritage, modern facilities and venues, a large hotel complex and the best transportation connections, thanks to its international airport, high-speed trains and one of the most important multimodal ports in the Mediterranean.

▲ BASILICA OF LA SAGRADA FAMILIA

Since its founding in 1983, the Barcelona Convention Bureau (BCB) has had years of experience in providing free advice to conference and meeting organisers. Not only will they help you find the most suitable local partner, they will also assist you with any required procedures in this city with endless possibilities.

With the MWC (Mobile World Congress) as its flagship, capable of bringing together more than 100,000 professionals, more than 200 conferences and conventions are held annually in the capital of Catalonia, which has allowed the city to lead the international ICCA ranking of the number of conference attendees since 2013.

In addition to its excellent services, it is an ideal destination for incentive trips. An amazing blend of first-class ingredients, tradition, creativity and innovation have turned it into a gastronomic paradise bathed by the Mediterranean Sea.

Barcelona is the quintessential modernist city, where it you can visit Antoni Gaudí's main architectural gems that have been declared World Heritage Sites, such as the Sagrada Família and Park Güell. In its art centres and museums, you will also discover the mark of geniuses such as Picasso and Miró; and with the city's vibrant cultural agenda, there is always the opportunity to attend interesting exhibitions, concerts and activities.

You'll find the most exclusive boutiques in the Eixample, near the Passeig de Gràcia and the Avinguda Diagonal. The city is also known for its nightlife, thanks to its hundreds of lively terraces, bars and clubs.

ACCOMMODATION

You're bound to find accommodation ideally suited to your requirements in Barcelona's wide range of hotel options available.

The elegant and sophisticated five-star Hotel El Palace has six areas with different capacities. Whilst the Gran Hotel Princesa Sofía offers both one of the largest facilities for events in the city, over 7,000 square metres, and the best assessment.

The four-star Barceló Sants is proud of being the best connected hotel in Barcelona, since located on in the grounds of the city's main railway station. Another which is well connected is the Hotel Barcelona Center, very near the Paseo de Gracia, the shopping centre and the business hub.

VALENCIA

With countless monumental attractions and a Mediterranean soul that exudes vitality, Valencia is positioned as an ideal MICE destination. The city has one of the best conference centres in Spain and a trade fair for large conventions, as well as dozens of unique, state-of-the-art venues.

The combination of modern facilities and iconic venues such as the City of Arts and Sciences or the Conference Centre designed by Norman Foster have also contributed to Valencia hosting major international conventions.

Follow the traces of its past through its historic centre and be amazed by its avant-garde buildings. The cathedral and the Valencia Silk Exchange, in Gothic style and listed as a World Heritage Site, are two of the city's most iconic buildings.

But Valencia has so much more to offer: the Palau de la Generalitat, the Palau de la Música and the Valencia Institute of Modern Art (IVAM) cannot be missed. Valencia is also a paradise for urban shopping, with areas in the historical town centre and the Russafa and Eixample neighbourhoods where fashion and design blend perfectly.

As for gastronomy, it is impossible to imagine this city without paella, one of the most renowned Spanish dishes in the world. But Valencia's culinary art does not stop here: tapas at the stalls in the Plaza del Mercado or an innovative tasting menu at one of its Michelin-starred restaurants are just some of the possibilities that Valencia offers.

It is, without a doubt, a comfortable city, with 2000 years of history and the perfect combination of beaches, natural spaces and a vibrant cultural agenda.

① More information:

Its accessibility, great weather, unique cuisine, urban beaches and a lively cultural agenda make it an absolutely irresistible city.

▲ CATHEDRAL

ACCOMMODATION

With its hotel offering, Valencia is consolidating its position among the best Spanish destinations for holding conferences and meetings.

The main hotel chains have four-star hotels such as the AC Hotel Colón Valencia, the Meliá Valencia, the Barceló Valencia and the Eurostars Gran Valen- cia, all with the infrastructures required to make your event a real success. Also among those recommended by the Valencia Convention Bureau (VCB) are the Sorolla and Primus Valencia.

SEVILLE

Tradition and the avant-garde go hand-in-hand in Seville, the capital of Andalusia. Every year, professionals and those organising events from all corners of the world choose this place, attracted by the wonderful climate, the delicious gastronomy and the hospitality of the local people.

Seville also has an excellent transportation network, thanks to the high-speed train – which, in 1992, made it the first Spanish city with a train connection to Madrid – its international airport and a modern river port that can welcome cruise ships.

In recent years its position as a preferential MICE destination has been strengthened, making it the venue for important events like Aerospace & Defense Meetings and the Conference on Cardiovascular Disease.

Seville has endless attractions. It is a city full of history and it is the perfect size for strolling around such historical features as the Plaza de España, the Real Alcázar, the María Luisa Park and the Fine Arts Museum.

There are numerous "tablaos flamencos" in the city but the most authentic ones where you can best enjoy this typically Spanish music are to be found in the Triana neighbourhood. The best atmosphere in the city can be found in the Alameda de Hércules district and the Santa Cruz and Arenal neighbourhoods.

Gastronomy is another of Seville's undoubted attractions. It features simply-prepared, exquisite dishes like "gazpacho" (chilled tomato soup), marinades, salted products and casseroles. Among the most notable establishments are the Michelin-starred restaurants Abantal and Cañabota.

TERRACE WITH VIEWS OF THE CATHEDRAL

ACCOMMODATION

Seville's hotel sector offers you all kinds of options. With five stars, the EME Cathedral stands out, a boutique hotel with two conference rooms, one with views of the cathedral and the other with a glass floor covering 1st century Roman ruins. Villapanes Palace offers its clients the opportunity to enjoy an 18th century palace in an exclusive way.

If you're looking for a 4-star hotel near the Conference Centre, the best options are the Hotel Congressos and the AC Hotel Sevilla Forum.

The Ayre Hotel Sevilla, very near the Santa Justa Railway Station, has flexible meeting rooms which makes it very versatile.

MALAGA

The capital of the Costa del Sol is very much in vogue. Investment in recent years in infrastructures like the Port of Malaga, the creation of tourist and cultural attractions and the promotion of a dynamic and innovative business culture make the city an ideal venue for showcasing your event.

The innovative and cosmopolitan spirit that permeates the city has attracted innovative proposals and major events such as the EU Industry Days, the Padel World Summit and the Interdisciplinary Congress on Human Genetics.

Malaga has an extraordinary selection of cultural attractions, with about 40 museums and exhibition halls, featuring the Picasso Museum, the Russian Museum Collection and the Pompidou Centre.

The large beaches and the nearby golf courses are a good option for leisure during the day, while at night the city centre is immersed in a contagious festive atmosphere.

The people of Malaga have made tapas an art and it is most common to try these small bites in the variety of establishments spread throughout the streets of the historic centre.

SAN SEBASTIÁN/ DONOSTIA

San Sebastián (Euskadi) is a peaceful, elegant city surrounded by beautiful countryside. Its incomparable gastronomic level and its extensive organisational experience, backed by major events such as the Donostia Zinemaldia International Film Festival or the European Molecular Imaging Meeting, make it an ideal destination for the MICE market.

► OLD TOWN

It is easy to get to and from the city by any means of transport: it has up-to-date road infrastructure, excellent rail connections both national and international via the French TGV high-speed train, as well as its own airport with connections to Madrid and Barcelona. In addition, it is less than an hour's drive from two other international airports (Bilbao and Biarritz).

The white sandy beaches are ideal for enjoying the sun and the sea. The different neighbourhoods are just waiting for you to take a stroll and admire beautiful Belle Époque buildings, like the Victoria Eugenia Theatre and the City Hall. The city is full of culture, whether in its museums or in the film, jazz and classical music festivals that make up a very attractive cultural agenda.

San Sebastián enjoys a varied night life, with the lively "Parte Vieja" (Old Town), the pedestrian street of Reyes Católicos, ideal for a cocktail on one of the terraces, and the Gros neighbourhood, where there are numerous bars where you can relax and have a chat.

▲ PINTXOS

If there is one thing that San Sebastián/Donostia is famous for, it is its pintxos, delicious miniature bites that express the creativity of its gastronomy. Avant-garde cuisine, one of the city's hallmarks, is represented by renowned chefs such as Pedro Subijana, Juan Mari and Elena Arzak and Martín Berasategui. It is also home to the Basque Culinary Centre, a cutting-edge centre for culinary education.

The popular ritual of txotx is enjoyed between January and April: Cider houses open their doors to the public to offer seasonal cider accompanied by a traditional menu. In the txakoli wineries, with the tours and activities they organise, you can discover the secrets of typical Basque white wine.

ACCOMMODATION

The hotel selection in San Sebastián/Donostia, which has been clearly growing in recent years, has numerous four-star hotels in the city centre, capable of covering all accommodation and leisure needs.

With five stars, the unmissable reference is the María Cristina, an elegant and refined hotel, where the stars of the San Sebastian Film Festival have stayed for decades.

The four-star hotels most suitable for MICE tourism are the Hotel Arima, the Hotel Mercure Monte Igeldo and the Hotel Barceló Costa Vasca.

BILBAO

The magnificent location of the venues and the extensive services make Bilbao (Basque Country/ Euskadi) one of Europe's most attractive cities for conferences, trade fairs and incentive travel.

▲ NIGHT VIEW OF BILBAO

Surrounded by a green landscape with splendid forests and mountains, it has been part of the Global Destination Sustainability (GDS) network since 2021 and offers a multitude of active leisure opportunities.

Bilbao invites you to stroll and go shopping in the Old Town or discover the city of the 21st century in the Abandoibarra neighbourhood, where you will find buildings by the best architects in the world and surprising open-air sculptures. Notable among its cultural offerings are numerous museums, galleries and exhibition halls, the iconic Guggenheim Museum Bilbao and the Museum of Fine Arts.

Basque cuisine is yet another added value for you to enjoy in this city. In Bilbao you have everything from Michelin-starred restaurants to bars serving tempting pintxos, as well as magnificent traditional restaurants, grills, cider bars and taverns where you can discover real Basque flavours.

You will be in a city whose urban development has been internationally recognised on several occasions. It has excellent sustainable public transport and its airport is located 20 minutes from the centre. Most of the ideal venues for events are in modern, dynamic and innovative buildings, where the latest technology and the professional excellence of the staff will be able to meet any organisational challenge.

Explore the Picos de Europa National Park in Asturias, hiking along the Cares Gorge Route or enjoying the spectacular landscape from a 4x4, a thrilling experience. Oviedo, the capital of the region, is surrounded by beautiful natural parks in which to relax.

If your group is young and looking for adventure, you could release a little adrenaline parachute jumping in the Costa Brava or canyoning in Cuenca. These are all activities designed to release stress and promote team spirit.

Take advantage of the endless options that the Canary Islands offer you. The Gran Canaria Convention Bureau has an extensive outdoor training programme which includes a great variety of activities: survival and orienteering games, multi-adventure circuits, trips on a pirate ship, off-road vehicle routes, water activities... There are also unusual alternatives like camel riding, underwater excursions and routes in the archipelago through volcanic landscapes and tropical forests.

For mixed groups, a great option is to play golf on some of the best courses in Europe, like Valderrama, in Cadiz, and the PGA Catalonia Golf. Snorkelling in Cabo de Palos, a coastline interspersed with peaceful coves and crystal-clear waters, or enjoying the unique combination of snow and beach available in Granada are just two of the options available in Spain.

Enjoying a swim in the crystal-clear waters of the Mediterranean or admiring the natural landscapes of the Sierra de Madrid on a paddle surf board are other unforgettable experiences that will make your incentive trip a guaranteed success.

FOOD

Spanish cuisine, a global gastronomical benchmark, can be included in numerous interesting and unusual activities.

An incentive trip really ought to include a workshop where you can have fun enjoying the authentic local cuisine. You can make contact with renowned chefs, learn culinary secrets and try out your skills at preparing all kinds of dishes.

Foster teamwork on a gastronomic tour in which the participants have to demonstrate their abilities. Or enjoy a gourmet experience when visiting historic markets like the San Miguel Market (Madrid), the Bretxa (San Sebastián) and La Boquería (Barcelona).

Foster attention to detail by taking a course in tasting indigenous products. There's something for everyone, from wine-tasting in an iconic winery to Iberian cured ham and virgin olive oil tasting in a rural farmhouse.

URBAN

Spain has endless monuments and museums of renowned international prestige. Each city has a varied and extensive selection of cultural attractions.

Andalusia is home to countless treasures. You can surprise your guests with a nighttime visit to the Alhambra de Granada or experience the magic of a Flamenco show in a "tablao" in Seville.

You can also visit the historical medieval town centre of cities like Santiago de Compostela, Valencia and Cáceres as part of a field tour through the most iconic streets and buildings. See the best opera, theatre and ballet or visit galleries like the Prado Museum in Madrid and enjoy the Dalí Theatre-Museum in Figueres.

Gamification and tailor-made experiences are becoming more and more popular and this can be seen in the increasing number of activities available for getting the most out of incentive travel. For promoting motivation and team spirit you have escape rooms which are becoming very fashionable in the provincial capitals. Or you could plan your trip so the participants can enjoy Spanish festivals and traditions, like the April Fair in Seville, the San Fermín festivities in Pamplona and the Fallas bonfire festival in Valencia.

For those who are passionate about football, you can visit iconic stadiums like Real Madrid's Santiago Bernabéu and Barcelona's Camp Nou, which will leave everlasting memories.

CORPORATE EVENTS IN MUSEUMS AND VENUES WITH HISTORY

It has never been so easy to organise an event in delightful places like wine-cellars, museums, palaces and theatres. In Madrid, extraordinary art galleries like the Reina Sofía National Art Museum and the Thyssen-Bornemisza Museum are available for holding work meetings and conferences complemented by private visits to their collections.

Plan your meeting in a Modernist building in Barcelona like the Casa Batlló or the Casa Milà, built by Gaudí, or take advantage of the facilities available at the Palau de la Música or the Gran Teatre del Liceu to add a unique touch to your event or presentation.

In the heart of Bilbao you'll find the Azkuna Zentroa, a majestic old wine warehouse whose interior has been refurbished by the designer Philippe Starck. In nearby San Sebastián, institutions like the San Telmo Museum, located in a monumental 16th century building, will provide striking surroundings for any corporate event.

HOW TO GET TO SPAIN AND TRAVEL AROUND

CAR

Spain has the best network of motorways and dual carriageways in Europe. There are ideal connections between all the cities in Spain so it is easy to combine different destinations for incentive programmes and other corporate events.

The main vehicle rental companies operate throughout the country. Both the hotels and the conference venues have special agreements and resources to facilitate group travel.

INFORMATION ON PASSPORTS AND VISAS

Citizens of the European Union, Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway and Switzerland can enter Spain with their national identity document or passport.

Visitors of all other nationalities will need a visa unless they have a residence permit or a long-stay visa issued by a Schengen State. Documents must be valid for up to three months after the planned date of departure from the Schengen area and have been issued within the 10 years prior to entry.

Additional documentation may also be required, such as: invitation from a company or authority to participate in meetings; documents proving the existence of professional relationships or access cards to trade fairs and conferences.

In all cases, it will be necessary to prove the existence of financial resources for the planned stay in Spain.

Short-stay visas allow a stay and transit through Spain for 90 days, while long-stay visas are required to stay in Spain for more than 90 days. The visa for teleworkers can be requested to carry out a remote work or professional activity for companies located outside of Spain. All of them are issued by Spanish embassies or consulates in the country of origin.
